SC Police Chief Asks Adults To Aid School Safety Plans

San Carlos Police Chief Edward Wheeler this week declared that adults are poor examples to their children in enforcing the rules and regulations the schools and police are trying to make imperative to them in regard to safety.

His declaration was made at a forum meeting of the Parent Teacher Assn. in San Carlos on "Community Safety."

Kenneth Thompson, director of safety service for the San Mateo County Red Cross, said the three "Es" of safety are engineering, education and enforcement.

Chief Wheeler, in calling parents poor examples to their children in the matter of safety, cited cases of mothers taking children back and forth in mid-street and not bothering to go to the pedestrian walks. Yet the same children are being taught every day the great importance of using the pedestrian walks.

The school traffic patrols are backed up by the police, Chief Wheeler said, and parents who infringe upon the rules of school crossings are being carefully watched.

Thompson said the first "E" of safety—engineering—has to do with the mechanical devices of safety, such as signals, warnings, etc. Education is the responsibility of the schools, home, police, Red Cross and such agencies. Enforcement is the duty of the police department.

Engineering and enforcement are done and will continue to be, Thompson said, but education is something that must gain prestige before it can gather force and momentum.

Two to three thousand more people are killed every year in homes than on the highways, Thompson pointed out. He maintained that the home accidents and fatalities both far exceed those anywhere else—in industry, highway or anywhere.

"The sad part," Thompson said, "is we can't do much about it. Talk is not effective in enforcing rules."

Emmott Mahoney, who acted as moderator, said that social pressure was an excellent means of enforcing safety. He said he believed that in San Carlos, where people are so concerned with the welfare of children, "we could build social attitudes which frowned on lack of observance of safety measures."

He pointed to newspapers as an excellent means of safety support. He said civic and social clubs could play a large part in building safety attitudes that would be educational.

On the question of danger in crossing El Camino Real, Chief Wheeler said a request already has been put before the state for an automatic signal at the corner of Brittan Ave. and El Camino Real, but that it probably would be a year yet before anything could be done about it.

Wheeler said the police department's biggest headache concerns streets with no sidewalks. The children have no place to play but the streets on such a block and drivers are found to speed up on that type of street, feeling they are on a country road, he said.

The chief said that action to get sidewalks could be started by having a petition signed by 51 per cent of the property owners on both sides of the street. He said it takes about three months to get results.

Mahoney said the growth of population in San Carlos is forcing the city into new safety measures. There are new speed laws that can be enforced as soon as more than 16 homes are built in a quarter-mile stretch.

Woman Hurt In Crash Of Train, Car

Mrs. Raymond A. Ferrario, 38, Concord, suffered a broken ankle when a car in which she was riding collided Monday with a Southern Pacific Co. train at Chestnut St. and Middlefield Rd.

The driver of the automobile was Keith Stucki, 30, 133 Elm St., San Mateo. Engineer was Rudolph Hoffman, 50, 74 Santa Ynez St., San Francisco.

Police reports showed that the car was traveling south on Middlefield when it collided with the SP engine which was backing up westward on Chestnut. Stucki told police he didn't see the train until it was right on top of him.

Other passengers in the auto were Jockey James Nichols, Bay Meadows, San Mateo, and Mrs. Robert Wheeler, Burlingame Hotel, Burlingame.

The accident happened at 11:15 p.m.

Mrs. Ferrario was taken to Community Hospital.

County Traffic Toll Light Over Weekend

Drivers spent a comparatively quiet post-Thanksgiving weekend on San Mateo County highways, with only two minor injury accidents reported to the California Highway Patrol.

A half a dozen other accidents resulted in only minor damage to cars.

Albert N. Cava, 23, of San Francisco, was treated at Community Hospital last night for cuts and abrasions suffered when he was thrown from his car after it was involved in a collision on Bayshore Hwy. north of Broadway, San Mateo.

Cars driven by Cava and Albert M. Bell, 28, of Alameda, were involved in a rearend sideswipe collision after Bell had turned onto Bayshore Hwy. from Broadway.

Augustine Lopes, 19, of San Francisco, sustained a cut lip and a skinned knee when the car he was driving struck a bank and rolled over on Skyline Blvd. north of Millbrae Rd. intersection last night.

Officers stated that Lopes, driving about 50 miles an hour, failed to make a right-hand turn in the road. A passenger in the car, Elva Lopes, was unhurt.

School Bonds In San Carlos Get Big Vote

San Carlos voters Tuesday approved a $175,000 elementary school bond issue by an almost 15-1 majority, as nearly one-third of the city's registered voters turned out at the polls.

In the district's three consolidated precincts, the bonds won 1058-71. A total of 1129 persons balloted—100 short of the number which went to the polls last spring in the city's $525,000 municipal bond issue election.

Although voting was light in the morning, election officials reported than heavy balloting took place during the afternoon and commuter hours. Of the three precincts, fewer persons residing in the area where the proposed Arundel School is to be located, went to the polls than in the other two precincts.

The bond issue was called to raise money for a $250,000 14-room school to be located on Arundel and Phelps Rds.

Heaviest voting was in the White Oaks area where 500 residents voted. Two hundred and fifty persons went to the polls in Devonshire, while 349 voted at the Central School.

Supt. Ruth Melendy of the San Carlos Schools said today "It was an inspiration to see so many people at the polls."

She said that the school board planned to go ahead with the Arundel School as soon as possible. $67,000 from the district's building fund will be used towards the proposed school.

Through passage of the bonds, the school district has now reached its bonding capacity and is eligible for state school aid funds should further school expansion be necessary, according to the superintendent.

At present, 14 classes are being conducted on double session in San Carlos schools. Even with the Arundel School, classroom facilities will prove inadequate in a few years, she said, pointing out that enrollment is growing by about seven classes a year.

The district now has 34 classrooms, 25 of which are at the Central School.

GARDEN: Onions Are Good For You, Provided . . .

BY ROLLY LANGLEY

I was trying to locate exactly the town of Hornbrook in the atlas, and noticed that in spite of occasional agitation for divisions, California still has 58 counties. And it's still the second largest state, although some of the northern counties have been considered more aptly part of Oregon. If this ever went through, California would no longer be second largest state. In the atlas, you'll find that Texas has 254 counties, while Rhode Island, the smallest state, has but five counties, and Connecticut has eight. I also learned that Kentucky stands second in number of counties with 120.

But the atlas didn't show Hornbrook, Calif., from where Mrs. O. G. Tyrer writes:

"This Spring we planted onion seeds and had a nice crop come up. Then in early summer they began to bloom and as you know, the result was a dry stalk in the center of the onion. I am at a loss to know why they bloomed. I will thank you for advice on this problem."

Onions are, like most other plants, equipped to reproduce. They do this by sending up a seed stalk. To get good onions, minus the seed stalk, it's necessary to plant them at a time when they will develop the bulb to good size before sending up this stalk.

When the onions are planted late, the weather gets warm and forces the seed stalk before the bulb or edible part of the onion reaches the desired size.

To prevent this, plant the seeds earlier. In fact, many commercial growers planted onion seeds last month in coldframes, and already have large stands of tiny onion seedlings. These they will take out, and plant in rows for maturing, after the first of the year, when they are four to five inches high.

You can plant seed right now in individual containers or flats. Or you can make a small seed bed out of doors. The plants are perfectly hardy. The reason for planting in flats or in coldframes, is that the seed are small, and during the rainy season, it's easier to keep them from washing out. Also, as the small seedlings grow, they can be kept upright better when under cover, or in flats.

Also you can plant green bunching onions now. Or if you plant a white onion, like the Southport White Globe, you can use the small ones thinned out for salads.

If you use manure in the onion bed soil, be sure that it is thoroughly rotted. If you've had trouble with onion maggots in the past, fumigate your soil in advance with soil fumigant containing dichloroethylether.

Onions never grow very fast, and to give them a chance, you must keep them weeded. Since the roots are fairly shallow, it's dangerous to hoe the weeds out near the plants. Far better to hand-pull them, firming the soil where the roots of the onions might be exposed.

In the seedbed or flat, the onion seeds should be planted one-half inch deep. Don't drop seeds too close to each other. Twenty to 30 seeds per foot is plenty.

If you plant onion seeds now, you should catch the weather just about right, so that there'll be no danger of them bolting and going to seed.

2 Hurt, 2 Jailed In Auto Accidents

Roy G. Rollingshead, 25, Oakland, suffered only minor injuries Monday when the car he was driving overturned on Coast Hwy. near Sharp Park.

The California Highway Patrol reported that Rollingshead was passing another car, when he tried to swerve back into his own lane upon seeing an oncoming car. The wheels of his car struck the sand on the shoulder of the road and the car rolled over on its top.

Francis R. Hayden, 36, a Bay Meadows exercise boy, suffered minor bruises and landed in the county jail charged with drunk driving after his coupe ran off El Camino Real into the brush in Lomita Park.

Hayden was arrested by the CHP and is scheduled to appear before Justice of the Peace John J. Fahey Jr. in South San Francisco on Dec. 11.

Wesley R. Walker, 22, a Colma solderer, also was arrested on drunken driving charges late yesterday. CHP arrested him on El Camino Real at Junipero Serra Blvd. and he is to appear Dec. 12 before Judge Fahey.

Peninsula Committee Plans Services to Vets Hospital

At its regular monthly meeting held recently in the Hillsborough residence of Mrs. Bertram L. Wolfsohn, the Peninsula Coordinating Committee formulated plans for an increased program of party-giving and service on behalf of the patients at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Palo Alto during the month of December.

The committee, comprising Peninsula B'nai B'rith Lodge and Chapter, Council of Jewish Women, Peninsula Chapter of Hadassah, Temple Beth Jacob and Sisterhood, is jointly sponsoring a party in Ward 14 tomorrow afternoon. More than 45 patients will be the guests of the organizations at this monthly event. Mrs. Ralph W. Brill, Mrs. Wax Weinberg and Mrs. Jack Charnow, members of Peninsula B'nai B'rith Women, will assume hostess duties for the afternoon.

In cooperation with the San Mateo County Veterans Christmas Committee, a large group of women have signed up for gift-wrapping chores at the hospital on Thursday.

Those who will assist at the all day session are Mesdames A. Maginsky, J. Moss, Gene Blum, Neal Sutton, David Geller, Maurice Barnblatt, Theodore Rosenberg, Sol Schoengold for Hadassah; Mesdames Manuel Schwartz, Edwin Newman, Harry Hurdy, Robert Klein, Fred Licht, Leo Knopf, Max Weinberg, Shirley Greene, Ralph Wonderman, Sidney Marks, Ben Feldman, and Sigmund Rosenthal for B'nai B'rith Chapter; Mesdames Josie Heiman, A. Brust, Melvyn Dollinger, Robert Shapiro, Harry Grant, Bertram Wolfsohn, B. Andre and Aurelia Kirschberg for Council of Jewish Women; Mrs. Louis Zeitman for Temple Beth Jacob.

Not one Santa Claus but a baker's dozen is the promise of B'nai B'rith Lodge, which has assured the hospital that many members will be on hand Christmas day to assist in the distribution of gifts to all patients. Manuel Schwartz, president, B'nai B'rith Lodge, is handling all arrangements for this service.

On Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 9, the six organizations will jointly sponsor a Hanukah Party for Jewish patients. Under the guidance of Rabbi Lee L. Levinger, chaplain, the committee will put on a program of traditional games and music and also will serve refreshments as well as distribute gifts to about 45 patients in the group. Two members from each affiliated organization will comprise the committee assigned to staff this special event.

All six groups have contributed individually to the fund-raising campaign of the San Mateo County Veterans' Christmas Committee and have pledged their support towards the unified holiday program which the committee is directing at the hospital.

Mrs. Jack Charnow, chairman reported that the coordinating committee voted a contribution of $25 to the chaplain's fund. Representatives in attendance at the last session were Mrs. Benjamin A. Stein and Mrs. Max Weinberg for Peninsula Chapter; Mrs. Sol Schoengold for Hadassah; Mrs. Bertram Wolfsohn and Mrs. Belle Woods for Council; Max Weinberg for B'nai B'rith Lodge; Mrs. Manny Schwartz, secretary-treasurer and Rabbi Levinger for Jewish Welfare Board. The next regular meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Schwartz, 2910 Alameda de las Pulgas, on Monday evening, Dec. 29. Nomination and election of a new chairman will be an important item on the agenda.

SC Building Soars To All-Time Record

New building in San Carlos passed last year's record $5,140,000 mark, Saturday, while the building inspector's office reported today that permits for construction totaling over $100,000 had been issued this morning.

According to Mrs. Alise Rodgers, assistant to Bldg. Insp. O. W. Stewart, permits for building totaling $62,000 were granted Saturday bringing the total building for 1947 up to $5,168,725, an all-time high for San Carlos.

Mrs. Rodgers said that permits granted today brought the total up well past the five and a quarter million mark, adding that when all applications on her desk were cleared up, the total would probably reach $5,500,000.

Last week, after a month-long lull in building permits, approximately $300,000 worth of construction were granted by the building inspectors' office.

Mrs. Rodgers said that if applications keep coming in during December at the present rate, the total building for 1947 may reach $6,000,000.

New Industry Shows Boom In California

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Construction of a $2,000,000 plywood mill near Redding, recently announced, tops a sharp postwar expansion of the plywood industry in California.

Eight mills now are in production, being built or planned. Five of these will have a total annual production of 250,000,000 square feet of 3/8-inch plywood. The capacity of the remaining three has not been announced.

Before the war only two mills were in operation. Their production was about 50,000,000 square feet a year.

While the bulk of the production will be from Ponderosa pine and sugar pine, fir and redwood also will be used.

Latest addition to this growing industry will be the mill at Anderson, near Redding. This is a joint venture of U.S. Plywood Corp. and Harbor Plywood Corp. of Hoquiam, Wash. Construction is expected to start soon on the plant, which will turn out 6,000,000 square feet of plywood monthly, and on a small sawmill.

Mutual Plywood Corp., Fair Haven—construction to start about Dec. 8; planned capacity 5,000,000 square feet a month.

California's Building Hits 1¾ Billions

LOS ANGELES (AP)—An optimistic report on California economic conditions during the late fall months was presented to directors of the State Chamber of Commerce today.

New construction will total more than $1,750,000,00 for 1947, said James E. Shelton, chamber vice president. And industry and commerce reached new high levels during the Autumn.

Building construction will show a 21 per cent gain over last year's figure, the directors were told. Civilian employment continues at higher level than last year, and there is a marked upward swing in factory production, he added.

He reported a mixed trend in retail trade, with durable goods far ahead of last year. Department store and apparel trade sales were spotty, some cities reporting them heavier and some lighter.

Realty loans in the Los Angeles area gained 22 per cent over a similar period in 1946. Southern California building permits have gained 54 per cent so far this year, and farm marketing receipts are 5 per cent higher than for the same period of 1946.

Menlo C of C Urges Split With Sequoia

Pointing out that Menlo Park has grown large enough to support its own high school district, the city's chamber of commerce this week urged secession from Sequoia district.

The chamber pointed out that Menlo Park students are spending too much time traveling to and from school, thus depriving them of hours that might otherwise be spent at home.

The group also criticized conditions at Sequoia, pointing out that with their own board the residents of Menlo Park could better guide and instruct their own students.

Spokesman for the chamber of commerce, George Cleese, Menlo Park lumberman and chamber treasurer, explained that the Menlo Park area is now contributing 650 students to Sequoia, and that this number is "more than sufficient to warrant a separate high school in the south end of the county."

The Menlo Park Chamber of Commerce, together with city officials, warned the Sequoia trustees at their meeting two weeks ago that the board was taking too long in making up its mind about purchasing land for a south county school.

S&W Land Here Rezoned To Commercial by Council

Over the protests of property owners in the area, Redwood City councilmen Monday rezoned a block bounded by Manzanita St., Heller St. and Middlefield Rd. from second residential to industrial use.

The lot is owned by S&W Fine Foods Inc. which has announced its intention of constructing an addition to its food canning plant on the block.

Adoption of the rezoning ordinance had been postponed from the last council session when councilmen claimed the firm had now fulfilled a verbal agreement to keep the lot in a satisfactory state of police.

Represented by Atty. Richard tum Suden, area residents had complained then that the firm was storing "lug boxes" on the lot after promising to remove unsightly and odorous barrels.

Thom Rhorabough, plant manager, in a letter, told council the lug boxes were not mentioned in a verbal agreement concerning the removal of barrels.

He said, however, that the firm could remove the boxes to another part of the lot away from residences and that two-thirds of the barrels had already been moved. He predicted that all barrels would be gone between Jan. 15 and 21.

The two residents who protested last night were L. W. Whiteley, 419 Manzanita, and Fannie McVey, 2102 Middlefield.

Whiteley said it was against city ordinances to store boxes in the way the firm was at present. He said he was ready to reopen the entire question.

Mrs. McVey said the presence of the boxes was a good sample of the S&W attitude.

Council also:

Approved erection of Community Chest wishing wells at Broadway and Main St. and at Broadway and California St.

Approved purchase from the Bob Wondries Motors a new fire department automobile costing $1908.

Filed a letter from State Controller Thomas Kuchel acknowledging city protests to receiving only 50 per cent of liquor license fees collected prior to the change of a state law which in the future will give 100 per cent of these fees to the city.

Approved a planning commission recommendation that J. K. White and W. L. Faulstich be granted permission to resubdivide a lot at Arlington Rd. and Oakdale Ave.

Approved a planning commission recommendation that G. W. Montgomery be denied permission to resubdivide a lot at Eaton Ave. Place and Eaton Ave.

Notified the San Mateo County Tuberculosis Society that it cannot legally make a $25 donation to the society's Christmas seal fund.

Heard Mayor W. W. Hilton appoint Councilman Arthur Swift to a California Mission Trails Assn. county board of directors.

Placed on the agenda a request by Mrs. Ella Rehbock, 203 Center St., for permission for the Parent Teacher Assn. to operate a lunch stand at Washington School. City Atty. Cuthbert Currie was instructed to determine whether such a stand would violate zoning ordinances.

Slated a meeting for next Monday with the planning commission to discuss a proposed new zoning ordinance after hearing three letters protesting the ordinance.

Gave City Mgr. E. A. Rolison permission to sign an agreement giving the Corcoran Sign Co. permission to erect a chamber of commerce sign on city property.

Approved corrections to the city tax rolls which were advocated by City Assessor John Brophy.

Rejected bids submitted for the installation of fill on Steinberger St. and set Dec. 30 as the date to open new bids on the same job. The original bids were rejected because City Mgr. Rolison claimed they were not competitive because bidders did not use a uniform method of measuring the amount of fill.

Put on the agenda requests by Bert Oback, 1399 Bayshore Hwy., and Russ Denney, 1903 El Camino Real, for licenses to operate used car lots. The applications were relayed in order to give councilmen an opportunity to study an ordinance regulating such lots which was proposed by an automobile dealers' association.

Heard councilmen promise to hold a meeting "soon" to discuss a proposed amusement machine licensing ordinance.

Adopted two resolutions aimed at recovering city funds spent in the development of Broadway No. 3 industrial tract. The city put up the funds for an engineering job on the understanding property owners would return them as land changed hands. Failing to recover, the city retained Atty. Ernest Wilson to get the money. The two resolutions last night: 1. a resolution of preliminary determination to start improvements in the area and to issue 1911 act bonds to cover costs, 2. a resolution giving preliminary approval to plans and specifications for the job which have been completed and paid for by the city.

Gave Rocco Rovetta permission to construct a trailer court at 1933 Bayshore Hwy.

Approved a state division of highways' memorandum granting the city an additional $5000 of gas tax funds for use on a Hudson St. improvement job.

Approved advancing $5000 to pay the contractor for the job and the giving of an additional $1100 of city money to pay a deficit on the same job.

50,000-Pound Machine Kills Man in SSF

A laborer was instantly crushed to death Monday night when a huge 50,000-pound electric automatic welding machine broke loose at Western Pipe and Steel Foundry in South San Francisco.

John Hill, 45, colored San Francisco swing shift employe, was attempting to raise the machine by means of a jack and blocks when a pin sheared off and the machine pinned him to the concrete floor.

Stanford Prof Breaks the News: Bright Children Do Have Chance

Stop worrying about children being too bright for their own good.

According to Dr. Lewis M. Terman, noted Stanford University educator and psychologist, the child of high intelligence has a better than average chance for happiness and successful adjustment in life. Twenty-five years ago Terman began observing 1500 youngsters, selected solely for high intelligence to determine how mentally gifted children turn out. His findings are published today by Stanford University Press in a book called "The Gifted Child Grows Up." Coauthor with Dr. Terman is Mrs. Melita H. Oden.

Dr. Terman quashes the old wives' tale that superior intellect in a child is the down payment on a nervous breakdown, a disagreeable personality or worse.

On the average, children of high intelligence are superior to the general child population in physique and general health, their mortality rate is lower, their scholastic and college records vastly superior. Highly intelligent children are better adjusted, less one-sided, and more versatile than the average, Terman found. In character and personality they also show greater development.

What happens to gifted children when they grow up? Eight or nine times as many as the general public enter the professions and their earnings are substantially greater than those of average college graduates. By the time they are 35 they are better fed, better housed, and better doctored than the average. They are in a position to care better for their children and they have less reason generally to be anxious about the future. Contrary to the impression that a bright mind may conceal a tendency to instability, less insanity, serious personal maladjustment, delinquency, alcoholism and homosexuality were found in this group than in the average.

Sears Buys Hillsdale Site

The long-rumored deal involving transfer of a large chunk of Hillsdale business property in San Mateo from the David D. Bohannon organization to Sears Roebuck stores was completed yesterday, according to records in the county recorder's office.

The property purchased is at the southwest corner of Hillsdale Blvd., and El Camino with a 300 foot frontage on El Camino Real.

Bohannon confirmed the sale this morning but declared the $30,000 sale price as recorded on the deed transfer was "definitely not correct."

The Hillsdale developer said the deal included a provision that all announcements as to erection of a Sears store on the property would have to come from the Sears firm.

Sears officials in San Francisco said all announcements would be made by the Los Angeles office.

Bohannon added that official announcement from the national organization of its first Peninsula development would probably be withheld until Sears had completed pending plans and had set definite dates for construction on the property.

Tax Collections In County Soar

Ralph MacArthur, county tax collector, said today that his office has collected $3,000,000 on the first installment, and has almost that much again to collect this week.

Deadline for the first installment is next Friday.

Tax bills for the county hit an all-time peak at $8,247,000 or almost $2,000,000 more than last year's record taxes. The second installment is due Jan. 1, delinquent, Apr. 20. Penalties accrue after the delinquent dates.

SC Chamber To Elect Leaders

Election of directors will be the main item of business at Tuesday, Dec. 9 meeting of the San Carlos Chamber of Commerce. The regular monthly meeting of the group will be held at the city hall and will convene at 9 p.m., due to the fact that participating merchants in the chamber, will have their stores open late for the convenience of Christmas shoppers.

This special December meeting will be the occasion of a social hour following the regular business session and refreshments will be served, according to William Klose, president.

SF Hit by Wave Of Violence

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — San Francisco experienced a weekend wave of robberies and burglaries that netted police 15 suspects with another 10 still being hunted.

A number of the robberies were those of taxicab drivers.

Most dramatic, however, was the holdup of a tavern operator from whom a gunman took $1400 after the tavern operator's pistol failed to fire at point-blank range.

Four of the suspects were taken into custody in connection with an attempted burglary of two Richmond stores last night.

P.A. Population Now 22,505

Palo Alto's population as of today is 22,505.

This is the preliminary estimate furnished this morning after a checkup of results of an actual house-to-house canvass just completed by the United Bureau of the Census.

The final official figure will be announced before the end of the month.

This figure of 22,505 is approximately 3700 more than the population credited to the city for the allocation of state gasoline tax money.

Girl Likes SD School, Vanishes From Home

A 17-year-old girl who preferred attending high school in South Dakota to Burlingame Tuesday was on the missing list.

The sheriff's office reported that Barbara Keele, 405 Broadway, Millbrae, Monday afternoon drew out $230 she had in a Millbrae bank, telling the cashier that she was going to buy a piano, and disappeared.

The girl's father, Lee Keele, told officers that Barbara had attended Montrose High School in South Dakota a year ago, when her parents were vacationing in that state, and preferred that school to Burlingame High.

Barbara is described as 5 feet 4 inches tall, with brown hair and blue eyes. She was wearing a black suit, aqua sweater, brown shoes and black and white checked coat when last seen.

Civil Service Tests Set for City Aides

Civil service examinations to create eligible lists for 18 positions in the Redwood City city government were scheduled today.

Applications to take the exams may be obtained at the city hall.

Following is a list of the positions for which tests will be given, and the salary ranges for the positions:

Jan. 10—Fireman, $250-$290; fire captain, $290-$315; fire inspector, $300-$325.

Jan. 17—Junior account clerk, $170-$200; stenographer clerk, $185-$215; secretary, $215-$255.

Feb. 10—Apprentice mechanic, $210-$250; painter, $225-$265; street maintenance man, $225-$250; street maintenance man, first class, $245-$285; maintenance superintendent, $350; water service man, $225-$250.

Feb. 28—Janitor, $205-$230.

Mar. 6—Meter reader, $220-$260; sewer man, $230-$270; engineering aide, $225-$230.

RC 'Chips In' to Battle Boost In Telephone Company Rates

Redwood City is among 35 California cities which chipped in this week to put a professor of economics on the witness stand to resist a rate increase asked by Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Co.

The expert was Dr. Ralph E. Badger of Detroit, according to Associated Press. His testimony was before the California Public Utilities Commission.

PT&T seeks an over-all increase of about $30,000,000 in California. The company already has received $16,000,000 in emergency interim increases. The further raise in rates would be felt hardest in the smaller communities.

Dr. Badger's prepared testimony, carefully typed and replete with exhibits, constituted an analysis of the cost of money.

He made these points:

Stock is earning much less than in the '20s; prospective investors are willing to take smaller earnings; the cost of money to PT&T is less; because of effective government controls through the Federal Reserve System, there will be no marked change in the interest rate in the next several years.

Badgers' report noted that American Telephone & Telegraph Co. paid good and stable dividends throughout the depression.

The PT&T proposed rate in California would result in a return to the company of 6.7 per cent, Badger said. He considers this too high. The top figure should be 5.5 per cent or less, he stated, and PT&T stock still would be an attractive prospect to investors, while rate-payers were getting the benefit.

Building Permits For Day: $622,000

Permits for home construction totaling $622,000 were issued Tuesday by County Bldg. Insp. A. W. Russell.

The largest block of permits was issued to Stonecrest Builders for construction of 42 homes in Broadmoor Village, Colma. The buildings, valued by Russell at $8000 each, represent a total cost of $336,000.

Second in value was represented by the 26 permits issued to Nelson M. Welbanks of Redwood City for construction of 26 dwellings at Emerald Lake Heights. Each house was valued at $7000, making the total $182,000.

H. P. Dunlap secured 13 permits for home in the $8000 class, to be built in Suburban Park, near Flood Park. The total cost by Russell's evaluation is $104,000.

Start of the winter season contributed to a sharp drop taken by the value of construction in the county during November.

Russell's monthly report shows that permits were issued during the month for $1,413,669 worth of construction, as compared to October's $3,155,754.

The total to date, however, is $23,567,091 for 1947. The 1946 record already was broken at the end of October.

November's permits included 123 for new homes, valued at $988,600; alterations for 26 homes, $62,926; and 50 non-residential permits for $362,143 worth of construction.

Santa Cruz Ave. Project Speeded

Menlo Park's Santa Cruz Ave., in a state of repair since construction work on the city's Santa Cruz Ave. improvement project began last July, will be a completely paved, 60-foot wide thoroughfare from El Camino Real to University Drive by the middle of next week—if good weather continues.

City Engineer Edwin H. Smith made the prediction this week after checking on the progress of construction crews which paved a 30-foot strip on the north side of the avenue from El Camino Real to Chestnut St. yesterday. The strip was open to traffic this morning.

Paving will be completed on the north side today, and crews will probably begin tearing up old pavement on the south side of the avenue tomorrow, Smith said.

Laying of base rock should be completed by the end of the week and asphalt paving work begun on Monday or Tuesday.

Smith said that construction crews will move to Oak Grove Ave. after finishing Santa Cruz Ave. Oak Grove and side streets, Chestnut and Crane, will be paved before streets in the Menlo Ave.-University Drive project.

First Wishing Well Goes Into Operation

First of two Community Chest wishing wells went into operation Monday. It is located at California St. and Broadway. Contractor Emil Steinegger, who donated the wishing well to the Chest, put it in place Monday morning.

Brooke Halsey, Community Chest campaign chairman, is hopeful that the wishing wells will help meet the chest's $7000 deficit.

YOU CAN SAVE MONEY EVERY DAY OF THE WEEK ...at SAFEWAY

That is no idle statement on our part either. We know that if a customer will check her Safeway purchases regularly against those made in another store, she will find that at the end of a thirty-day checking period she will have saved considerable money...money which will be left in her budget to buy some of the extra things she'll want. Under a long established pricing policy, our first step is to give Safeway customers the benefit of our efficient way of doing business by pricing everything at the lowest point which will yield a fair profit. Today we go beyond this in that we also meet the prices of every competitor, item by item, day by day, town by town.
